HIROSHIMA DEBUT

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Aug. 9 -- Every Friday and Saturday AS220 coffee house/gallery, located on the third floor of the Ocean State Performing Arts Center in downtown Providence, dishes up some new and exciting experience in art, music, poetry or drama.

This Friday, August 16 at 8 p.m., AS220 debuts a staged reading of "Burning Conscience", a new play by Mark Joel Levitt. This play explores the forces of guilt and the changing times in the life of Captain Claude Eatherly, an american reconnaissance pilot for the Hiroshima mission. Tickets at the door are $1.00.

On Saturday, August 17 at 8 p.m., John Grey a folk singer from "down under" will perform. Admission at the door is $1.00.

AS220 is committed to maintaining an open forum for the arts in Rhode Island. Any artist interest in performing or exhibiting should call 831-9327 or 351-1214.
